

The Good News

Friends,

Throughout the Lenten season we've devoted ourselves to a series in worship entitled: "Busy: Reconnecting with Our Unhurried God." Each week we've been invited to unpack a new layer of this series and we are often left asking the question, "what do I need to do less of in order to make room for God?"

We've looked at our 21st century world and the demands that are placed before us—the constant pressure of having to perform in order to feel worthy.

We've examined what we each carry and bring with us—feelings of isolation, fear, resentment, anger, depression, grief ...

We've named the need to take care of self through appropriate mental health care.

We've heard familiar and beloved scripture that brings great comfort—scripture that talks about green pastures and still waters; scripture that contains stories of bickering, ordinary families.

We've discussed how in our busyness we've not been fully present to one another, and then we've considered how our table-setting God is calling us to create space.

And we've tackled the idea that tuning in to God may mean just taking time to notice the things around us that are beckoning to dwell with us for a while.

Our attentiveness to this series was made so that we might examine our own personal lives and wonder where room needs to be made to connect with God and one another. For it is in these connections that we experience wholeness and peace.

If you have not made it to church this Lenten season, I'm going to ask a simple, straight-forward question: Why? Are you really too busy to carve out one-hour on Sunday morning to care for yourself, and to pay attention and create space for God to dwell in your midst? Not to worry. You are not too late. You still have time.

On April 7 and 14 we will continue in our Lenten worship series. Then, on Thursday, April 18, we gather for our Maundy Thursday service in the Sanctuary at 7:00 PM. This will be a holy gathering co-led by our new Associate Pastor, Rev. Todd, and our youth in the Confirmation class. On April 20 there is the annual Easter Egg Hunt at Sky Terrace Vineyards at 8:00 AM—a joy-filled opportunity to connect. Finally, on April 21, we will gather for our celebration of Easter at 9:30 AM in the Sanctuary.

Beloved, I hope you've experienced this Lent as an invitation—to make room, find room, and be room for God and one another. As we welcome Easter with all of its hope and joy, may we continue to find ways to reconnect with God and one another so that we may experience wholeness and peace.

Changing of the Guard

Like good stewards of the manifold grace of God, serve one another with whatever gift each of you has received.

1 Peter 4:10

You might say that Worship Commission and volunteering are the same thing.

In the last newsletter, you saw an article about the changing of the guard for the Worship Assistant Volunteer position. In this issue, we would like to acknowledge Gail Schumpert for preparing our communion table for over 20 years. We are grateful for Gail's quiet dedication for all those years. Carol Bassett has stepped in and made a smooth transition. Judi Weisgraber and Larry Berlin have agreed to substitute if necessary

We welcome all who would like to serve in any of the numerous tasks that it takes to create a worship service. We need volunteers/substitutes for Sound, Banner Care, Communion, Flower Committee, The Greening of the Church, Worship Assistant Volunteers, Handbell Players, Choir Members, and Instrumentalists. The behind-the-scenes preparations is what we need help with.

Our next meeting will be May 28. All are welcomed to join us in the Music Room at 10 am.

The DCC Spring Men's Lunch series begins Thursday, April 11, 2019 at noon at the Brass Door Restaurant in San Ramon. The series continues weekly for 6 meetings through May 16, 2019. All men are welcome.

As usual, we will have lunch together, catch up on each other's lives, and discuss the scripture planned for the following Sunday. Expect a lively discussion; one does not have to be an expert in the Bible to participate.

Hebrews 10:24

Dear friends,

Earlier this year, many of us wrote down our reasons for attending Danville Congregational Church. They addressed many different aspects of church life: the spiritual practice of Sunday service, the insights gleaned from Reverend Eric's sermons, the beautiful music of our church choir under John Kendall Bailey's leadership, fellowship with other church members, community outreach, the youth group, and more.

Whatever has motivated you to be part of our congregation, one thing is clear: DCC is a special place, where everyone is welcome.

Now, as the stewardship season is upon us, I'm writing on behalf of the stewardship commission to invite you to an upcoming stewardship meeting and learn about this year's campaign. As you'll see below, we have three scheduled gatherings. Each presents an opportunity to enjoy the company of others, hear this year's Stewardship Narrative and proposed 2019-2020 budget, and get questions answered about church plans for the year ahead.

Here is the schedule for this year's stewardship campaign. Please check the Church Directory for addresses or contact the host for details.

Campaign kickoff: Sunday, April 21.

Wednesday, May 1, 1pm at the home of Bruce and Kathie Hixon (ice cream social)
(925) 300-3072

Brucehixon@comcast.net

Friday, May 3, 6pm at the home of Dee Brook (bring your own appetizers)
(925) 846-0789

Bertbrook@comcast.net

Sunday, May 5, 11am in Koinonia Hall.

Second-hour gathering

Hosted by Heidi Bridgeman

(925) 979-8745

heidibridgeman@att.net

I hope you can make one of these meetings. If you can, kindly RSVP to the host of the meeting you plan to attend. Meanwhile, if you have any questions about this year's campaign, feel free to reach out to Heidi Bridgeman.

Sincerely,
Chris Rauen

Come wind down the week with our DCC friends at a regular TGIF party on Friday, April 5.

Join us for warm fellowship at this intergenerational fun gathering. Come alone or with your family and friends– all are welcome. Details:

Income: Fiscal year to date, Commitment Income is $9,100 under budget. The Finance Committee asks that if you are behind in your pledge giving so far this year, please consider "catching up".

Expenses: The church operating expenses are $35,000 under budget due primarily to the Associate Minister's position remaining unfilled. The budget assumed the Associate Minister would start in October 2018.

Net Income: Note that the Net Income would be $55,000 less if we had a full year of an Associate Minister and full staffing in the church office.

The Church Council has approved refinancing the current Mortgage and the Phase II Note into a 30 year loan with the United Church of Christ's Cornerstone Fund. The interest rate for the first 5 years is 4.75%. Our annual Debt Service expense will decrease by $32,000 for the first 5 years of the loan.

THE LEGACY SOCIETY AT DANVILLE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Legacy Society at Danville Congregational Church: Planned Giving to Support Our Future

Many of us at Danville Congregational Church are familiar with the committee chairs and members who perform vital roles to help the church operate and support church services and activities. But few are aware of a select group of members who make up the DCC Legacy Society.

Formed in November of 2010, the Legacy Society consists of church members who have pledged to include DCC in their estate plans. As an important complement to the DCC Endowment Fund and annual pledges from members, their donations help ensure that church finances remain sound not just today, but for many years in the future.

There are many ways to make donations as part of the Legacy Society. They can be in a specific dollar amount, as a percentage of an estate, or as a piece of property. When these donations are planned, donors can contribute without negatively impacting their current financial situation. And some gifts offer tax benefits during the donor's lifetime.

DCC member Mary Kay McClure learned about the Legacy Society at a second-hour presentation. She had already designated funds to DCC as part of a trust, so the Legacy Society was a natural next step for her as she updated her estate plan. "I come from a family with a long history of involvement with congregational churches," she says, "so I was happy to name the church as a beneficiary of my estate.”

Mary Kay is one of several members who today are part of the DCC Legacy Society. For others interested in joining this group and designating assets to DCC, there's a checklist and form available from the DCC office that can assist in estate planning. These provide information about wills, trusts, and the value of a safe deposit box as well as essential planning documents for survivors (e.g., durable power of attorney for healthcare and annuities or life insurance coverage, among others). For those who would like to learn more about the Society and how they can donate parts of their estate to DCC, contact Syd Dent, DCC financial secretary, at syddent@yahoo.com.

Celebrating the 20th Anniversary of Open and Affirming at Danville Congregational Church (Fourth in a series of articles by Chris Rauen.)

On the last Sunday of September in 1998, the Rev. Elizabeth Felts delivered a sermon entitled "Moving the Conversation Along." It opened by recalling the conflict in Genesis between twin brothers Jacob and Esau, and homes in on that night when Jacob wrestles with an angel, disguised as a man. As Rev. Felts related, "The struggle between Jacob and the angel symbolizes an inner struggle for Jacob: his self-confidence is chastened, and he is inwardly preparing for a new relationship with his brother."

Rev. Felts then called on the congregation to wrestle with the idea of becoming an Open and Affirming church. She spent the remainder of her sermon discussing the ONA movement, and how a church achieves that designation. She also made it clear that this was not something "we have to do as a congregation. It is something that we can choose to do."

After the sermon, there was a congregational dialogue, followed by a second-hour sermon discussion that centered on two questions:

Poor People's Hearing Bay Area. Against Racism, Poverty, War Economy, Climate Change

Saturday, April 6, 2:00 - 4:00 PM

Taylor Memorial United Methodist Church, 1188 12th St. West Oakland

This Bay Area hearing will focus on homelessness, mass incarceration, and the criminalization of poverty. It is the Oakland stop on a statewide Poor People's Bus Tour from the Yurok Indian Nation in the North down to the U.S.-Mexico border. The Bus Tour is organized by the California Poor People's Campaign which is part of the National Poor People's Campaign.

The Poor People's Campaign: A National Call for Moral Revival is organizing tens of thousands of people across the country to challenge the evils of systemic racism, poverty, the war economy, ecological devastation and the nation's distorted morality. Check out the event here: <https://bit.ly/2U1lmlC>

1. The part of the Open and Affirming concept that gives me the most trouble is...
2. One reason I think it would be good for our church to become Open and Affirming is...

This sermon and subsequent discussions were a prelude to further study, presented as second-hour forums hosted by ONA committee members. These sessions opened with a video, followed by dialogue and discussion. The schedule included:

October 4: "Teaching Respect for All," featuring a video from the Gay Lesbian Straight Teachers Network. The focus of the video was on secondary educators and their role in providing a safe environment for all students, and why gay and lesbian students in particular had been at risk in recent years.

October 18: "Addressing the Pro-Gay Religious Movement," where Exodus International, an organization that at the time was promoting conversion therapy for gay church members, addressed gay and lesbian religious issues as interpreted from their scriptural understanding.

October 25: "What's Religion Got to Do with Sex," from the Questions of Faith video series. This video looks at several Judeo/Christian perspectives on sexuality, and points of view of leaders from several religious denominations.

This program laid the foundation for the final ONA educational program in the spring of 1999. Next month, we'll look at this last step in the process that ultimately led to DCC members voting for ONA designation.

We will be celebrating 20 years of open and affirming at Danville Congregational Church. There will be a guest speaker, special music and reception. Keep an eye out for Chris Rauen's historical review of our O and A process over the next few months.

Easter Baskets for HIV Patients

Sign-up began March 17

Baskets due April 18

This will be the 30th year in which we provide Easter Baskets for people in our community who have HIV. Staff, at agencies we have served in the past, have told us how very much they and their clients appreciate our generosity and efforts to help someone with HIV have a pleasant Easter dinner. Perhaps more important has been the expression of compassion and love to those afflicted by this terrible disease. This year we are coordinating with the Rainbow Community Center in Concord to share our baskets with HIV patients and other LGBTQ persons who need assistance and some sunshine in their lives.

If you wish to prepare a family basket, please provide a sturdy basket, plastic tub, laundry basket, or decorated box containing the following for a family of 2 to 4 people. (Nice baskets can be found at your local thrift stores!)

- Cooked ham or turkey (not too big, please!)
- Canned green vegetable
- Canned yams/sweet potatoes
- Dinner rolls and butter or margarine (please package items for the refrigerator in a bag with a tag to match your basket)
- Fresh fruit
- Cookies/cake for dessert
- Sparkling cider, apple juice, and/or mineral water (NO wine or alcoholic beverages)
- Optional:*
- Easter candy (chocolate is ok!)
- Easter eggs (hard boiled in a crush-proof container)
- Book
- Cheese & crackers
- A card or note

To participate, sign up on the sheet that will be posted in Koinonia Hall, and plan to drop off your baskets at the church no later than Thursday, April 18. If you have items for your basket that require refrigeration, place those items in the church kitchen refrigerator with your name attached and leave a message attached to your basket listing the items and your name so that we can get everything back together properly before delivering the baskets. Thank you for your caring spirit and wonderful generosity! If you have any questions, please contact Kathie Hixon at KathieHixon@comcast.net.

It's the time of season for Spring Flowers for Easter Sunday. Donations can be given to Kim Michaud, Randy or Janis Jang, placed in the offering basket, or dropped off in the office. Please indicate that your donation is for "Easter Flowers." An email will be sent to you when your gift has been received. Thank you!

News and prayer requests from our Sister Parish

Enclosed with this newsletter are prayer requests from our sister parish in San Antonio, Guatemala. Please lift up these prayers over the next few months. The following is an update with good news.

"Dear brothers and sisters in California, receive these cordial greetings on behalf of the sister parish group in San Antonio Cunen. We are very grateful for the support that you have given us, especially for the support for our church construction project and the school supplies for the graduating students."

Shown in the picture is Tomas and Olga receiving the hats from the prayer shawl group and school supplies.

We have just heard that Pedro and Guadalupe's granddaughter had the surgery reported in the prayer concern and she is in recovery - apparently it went well, but ongoing prayers are always needed. Thank the Lord!

Carrie expresses gratitude to all!

Helping to Accomplish the Sister Parish Program Vision through Prayer

A joint prayer ministry of San Antonio Catholic Church in San Antonio, Guatemala and Danville Congregational United Church of Christ in Danville, California, U.S.A.

Our sisters and brothers in Guatemala are facing some serious issues, especially this spring as they hold a presidential election. Included in the prayer concerns on the next page is a statement about these issues. Please reflect on the vision of the Sister Parish Program as you lift up the prayer concerns.

The Sister Parish Vision

We believe the Kingdom of God is already present but not complete, and the liberating Gospel calls us to work together to build this Kingdom through:

- Consciousness-Raising ~ We will seek to transform the world by sharing each other's experiences so that we can better understand and overcome the sources of injustice and oppression.
- Solidarity ~ By putting ourselves in the reality of others and by building an interdependent community of brothers and sisters within and among countries, we will promote mutual respect and dignity for all people, advocate for human rights, and work for social and economic justice.

Joint Prayer Ministry Goals

1. To lift up the Sister Parish Vision before the members of both congregations, thereby helping them become more aware of and committed to this important ministry of the two churches.
2. To help members become more aware of the sources of injustice and oppression of concern to the members of the two churches.
3. To help invoke the power of God in resolving the concerns raised by members of the two congregations.
4. To further stimulate commitments of each congregation's members to become engaged in actions focused on building the Kingdom of God.

Prayer Concerns

The Situation:

Please keep the people of Guatemala in your prayers as tensions run high leading up to the national elections in June. At risk are recent gains in prosecuting government corruption, violent crime, and human rights abuses, as well as efforts to protect the environment. In 2018, 28 human rights workers were assassinated. The President, Jimmy Morales, who cannot run for a second term, has repeatedly tried to expel the Colombian prosecutor who led the highly successful International Commission Against Impunity in Guatemala and his international staff whose investigations helped successfully prosecute corrupt government officials, members of organized crime, and businessmen in recent years. President Morales has sought to protect himself and others close to him from similar prosecution and has threatened to release those who have been found guilty. The Guatemalan Congress has also proposed amnesty for crimes committed during the war in an attempt to free former members of the military now in jail for their participation in massacres and other crimes against humanity.

In the Quiche highlands, where our sister parish is located, the Guatemalan government continues its practice of allowing transnational corporations to mine for precious minerals and construct hydro-power dams. These unregulated projects risk polluting the environment and threatening the water sources needed for sustaining life. At great risk, Pedro, one of the lay leaders of our San Antonio congregation, is a member of the self-determination movement of indigenous people who are actively advocating for indigenous rights to information and consultation about projects that affect them. Despite difficulties, Guatemalans continue to fight for the well-being of their families, their communities, and their precious natural resources.

The dire situation is reflected in Pedro's 2017 appeal for prayer that we need to continue to lift up before God.

Pedro wrote, "Some of you at DCC know about our struggle here in Cunen. I ask for prayers for myself and my family. We are at the front of the struggle for the communities and our people. The issue of water is being raised in proposed legislation in Congress. We are fighting for our people. Please pray that one day there will be justice when it comes to water. Water is life and it should be recognized as a human right. We are also working to protect the environment in general. ... This work has its risks and there are times when suddenly I am very motivated and others when I lose hope.... Sometimes because of the risks involved in the struggle one thinks about looking for someplace to rest or about leaving for a while. I've thought about it, but my family is here and I can't. But I ask God to help me and that I find what I need with my friends and family."

Other appeals:

Pedro and Guadalupe are asking for prayers for their young granddaughter, Maria Dalila Chic Sica, who had complicated brain surgery this March. Please pray that the surgery goes well and pray for the family, especially the little girl's mother Miriam.

Please pray for Olga's continued efforts to attend university. She is taking a year off and, as of now, plans to re-take the remaining entrance exams at the public university in April.

Let us keep Carrie Stengel, the executive director of the Sister Parish Program in Guatemala, in our prayers at this time. Thankfully, Carrie reports, "My family and I are doing well - just trying to keep up with little Emilio, who is almost 2 years old and in constant motion.
